Ewings Chapter OSSAR

December 2015

Wishing all a Happy Holiday and a warm merry winter season unlike the winter at Valley Forge many years ago. Though several locations were proposed, Washington selected Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, 20 miles (30 km) northwest of Philadelphia. Named for an iron forge on Valley Creek, the area was close enough to the British to keep their raiding and foraging parties out of the interior of Pennsylvania, yet far enough away to halt the threat of British surprise attacks. The densely forested plateau of Mount Joy and the adjoining two-mile-long (3 km) plateau of Mount Misery combined with the Schuylkill River to the north, made the area easily defensible, along with providing abundant forests of timber that would later be used to construct the thousands of log huts. Seventy-eight of the huts in the camp would house the soldiers, but over 2,500 of those soldiers died.^[1]

Compatriot Russ Tippet was the speaker for the evening. Compatriot Tippet gave a very inspiring patriotic address. A special thanks to Russ for his time and effort.

Mark your calendars now to help you remember our next meeting to be held in Chester on Thursday 1/28/2016 wkb
